Local Tennis Club Defeats Cynwyd

Many Activities of Association Under Way

Last Saturday the Narberth Tennis Club team covered themselves with glory by defeating our neighbors from the Cynwyd Club by the score of six matches to three. This achievement was very credible because the Cynwyd Club has been famous for years and can be relied upon to always put out a good team. The results of last Saturday's matches show that Narberth is progressing very rapidly in the tennis world and the team is to be congratulated on its success. Every man played delightful tennis and it was a real joy to watch the doubles matches, it being very evident that our boys are teaming up well and showing real combination. The Tennis Club would be only too glad to have any resident visit the club and enjoy some of these matches. The dinner was in charge of Mrs. Redifer, assisted by Mrs. Fretz, Mrs. Boileau, Mrs. Redifer, Jr., Mrs. Findeisen and Mrs. Bill Fretz, not overlooking the redoubtable Perry, who wields a carving knife as wickedly as a racket, which is considerable. The menu consisted of roast lamb, green peas, potatoes with all the frills, topped off with ice cream and coffee. More than 60 fortunate persons were present and it was very enjoyable.

The quoit addicts were out in full force, in fact, we noticed their numbers have been considerably augmented so much so that it has become necessary to put in another couple of sets to keep the crowd going. Rumor says that there is considerable surreptitious practicing going on these moonlight nights, particularly in the Gladwynne district and that various challenges will be forthcoming in the near future.

What's that? Just John Winn in that well-modulated voice of his saying "Let 'em come, Bill and I can take care of them all."

Everything is coming along fine for the Pennsylvania State Clay Court Championship. The entries are coming in and the club hopes that Narberthites will be on hand to see some of the finest tennis matches that have ever been seen in this section of the country. The cups, given for prizes, are on view. Doc Howard's window, including the "Narberth Cup" given by Mr. A. D. W. Smith, are destined to become famous in years to come.

This week the dinner will be in charge of Mrs. J. S. Harris which means your reservation will have to be in early to be sure to get accommodated.

There will be no match here this week, the league match with Overbrook being postponed to allow several players of both teams to take part in the matches between the Penn. A. C. and Ocean City on Friday and Saturday. Five Narberth players will represent the Penn. A. C. including:

AUTO RACES AT BELMONT

Drivers From Three States to Compete Saturday

Representative race drivers from three States—Pennsylvania, Delaware and New Jersey—are entered in the big program of motor contests to be held Saturday at old Belmont mile track, Narberth.

The speed races will be held under the N. M. R. A. rules and only registered members of the National Association will be permitted to drive. The historic course has been put in good condition and those in charge predict many miles to be clocked under 55 seconds.

Joe Hepp, of Bethlehem, with his Hall-Scott airplane-motored car is expected to thrill in Saturday's meet. At Pottstown Joe was a big favorite for he passed many cars with his new racing car. Another chap who promises to give 'em all a chase is H. Hunter, of Ardmore, with a Packard, L. Lantz, of Trenton, N. J., has a Marmon entered and also looks forward to taking a few prizes.

Five events will be the Belmont card.

Legion to Put On Open Air Pictures

Ly Town Likes Them, To Continue All Summer

It has been said that the American fighting men in the late war made such large gains by their failure to pause after decisive victory. It seems to have become a habit with these men who represented Narberth in the great scrap, now known as the Harold D. Speakman Post, American Legion. To quote these columns of last week, the fireworks and the Fourth of July celebration as staged by the Legion was the greatest affair ever held in our community. Not satisfied with this, the Legion is now planning open air movies for the enjoyment of the town and to make Narberth stand out as the most spirited and desirable place to call home.

July 26 is the Evening.

It is the desire of the Legion to run these community entertainments every Saturday evening as long as it is comfortable to sit in the open. However, they have contracted for the films and equipment for only one evening—that of July 26. If this is appreciated and supported by the individuals and organizations of our town, they will be continued every week beginning August 9 and as long as practical.

A First-class Show.

No worn-out or second rate films will be shown. They have contracted for them from the Pictorial Club, Incorporated, of New York—an organization of high calibre Christian men who believe that the people of this country want pictures as clean and uplifting and yet as interesting as our best literature. They have produced a large number of films for non-theatrical use by communities, churches, schools, etc. These are the kind of pictures that, while thrilling, amusing and educational, you will want your youngsters to see.

A Well-balanced Program.

The main feature will be a five reel comedy drama that will hold young and old from beginning to end. Then there will be an educational picture of such unusual nature that scientists have endorsed heartily and more than one nationally circulated publication has praised it in big space. As a dessert to this feast of enjoyment, there will be an animated cartoon comedy. You have never seen these pictures in a theatre so come without fear of being disappointed.

Music.

The American people have gotten used to music with their cinema entertainment that many would be unable to fully enjoy such really good pictures as these without cool and comfortable breezes being filled with sweet harmony. To be sure of a first-class affair, the Legion has secured at considerable additional cost a group of professional musicians to add the finishing touches to a great program.

Time, Place and Seats.

The community playground will of course be used for this event and it will start at 8:30 P. M. The pictures will not show up well any earlier than this. Three to four hundred seats will be provided for the older people and the more supple and younger ones are asked to bring cushions and enjoy the evening close to Mother Earth.

As in the case of the fireworks the Legion has assumed the financial responsibility of this event. It can not afford to run more than one of these at a loss, so come prepared to contribute at least as much as you would pay for a similar show in a theatre. The Legion is not trying to make a profit and has pledged that if more money is contributed for the series of movies than the actual expenses, the surplus will be put to some good for the whole community. Anyone who will be unable to be present at the first of these open air community events, but still wants to encourage them, can leave his contribution with any Legionnaire or with John Nash at the office of Robert J. Nash, at the station.

EVERYBODY COME OUT SATURDAY EVENING, JULY 26, AND ENJOY THE MOVIES.

Miss Alice Greenway is the guest of Mrs. Franklyn Dunlop, of Dudley avenue.

The FIRESIDE

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Hopkins, of Philadelphia, formerly of Narberth, are being congratulated on the birth of a daughter.

Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Crane, together with Miss Miriam Oehle and Mr. John Colmer, of Philadelphia, left Wednesday for Black Mountain, N. C., by motor. They will remain there for two weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Flavel M. Smith and daughter, Helen, of Paterson, N. J., are spending the week-end with their cousins, Rev. and Mrs. John VanNess. Mr. Smith is a train dispatcher on the Erie Railroad.

Mrs. S. E. Jefferis, her daughter, Evelyn, and niece, Elizabeth Van Horn, are spending some time on a farm near Glen Moore, Pa.

Mr. and Mrs. John Fittipaldi and family, of Merion avenue, motored to Delaware Water Gap last Saturday.

Miss Peg Burrell, of the Avon Apartments, has returned from Pittsburgh, where she spent several weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Christian Gross and their son, William, of 322 Dudley avenue, are spending a short vacation with the family of their daughter, Rev. and Mrs. L. S. Ewing, of Lancaster, at their cottage at the Landisville Camp Meeting Grounds. Another son, Warren, is attending the annual convention of the International Steel and Copper Plate Printers' Union in Boston, Mass. He is one of the two local delegates representing Local Union No. 1 of Philadelphia.

Mrs. J. Howard Wilson and daughter, Miss Elizabeth Wilson, are spending the summer at Seal Harbor, Me.

Mr. and Mrs. William G. Casner are vacationing in New Hampshire.

Mrs. Charles V. Noel, of North Narberth avenue, sails from New York today for a trip through Europe.

The family of Mr. E. C. Griswold, of Chestnut avenue, is summering at Cape May.

Mr. and Mrs. Warren S. Bossett, of Merion avenue, have returned from their recent trip to Ocean City, N. J.

Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Sparks and family, of Woodside avenue, are at Ocean City for the summer.

Mr. Clarence J. Gallagher and his daughter, Miss Josephine Gallagher, are spending a few weeks at Atlantic City.

Three young men of Narberth traveled to Fortescue last Sunday to try the fishing, and came back with a goodly catch. They were Joe Leonard, James Gillespie and Clarence Long.

Mr. and Mrs. Horace T. Smedley are receiving congratulations on the birth of a daughter July 16.

Mr. Clarence M. Cooper and family are among the new residents recently welcomed to Narberth. They have purchased the house at No. 6 Elmwood avenue, formerly occupied by C. H. Wheeler, Jr.

Mr. and Mrs. John E. Wetzel and their daughter, Edna, are at Atlantic City.

Mrs. Ralph M. Neumann, of Chicago, was the guest of Mrs. William Livingston, of Chestnut avenue, Thursday.

Hon. William Wallace McClellan, of New Mexico, a recent delegate to the Democratic National Convention, is visiting his cousin, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. S. McClellan, of Woodside avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. John Adams Appleton, of Narberth, will move shortly to Uniontown, Pa., where they will make their future home. Mrs. Appleton was Miss Elsa Roberts Reath, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore W. Reath, of Port Reading House, Ardmore.

Building Begun by Lutherans

Excavation Under Way for New Structure

The Holy Trinity Lutheran Church, of Narberth, has begun the construction of their church building on their lot at the corner of Narberth and Woodbine avenues.

The Council of the church, having satisfactorily settled the financial problems involved, have begun the erection of their building by the excavation of the basement. They propose to go forward at once to the placing of the stone work.

It is planned to have the entire building finished by January, 1925. The church will not be a large one, but the committee intend to make it both chaste and beautiful, a credit to the Great Church of Our Lord and an ornament to the town.

The history of the Lutheran Church in Narberth, Pa., is not lengthy: Started a little more than two years ago by Rev. Dr. S. D. Daugherty, mission superintendent, of Philadelphia, for the Lutheran Church, this newly organized congregation worshipped in the Community Hall, paying the rental asked up to the present and expect to continue there until the completing of their church edifice. Rev. Milton E. McLinn, the pastor, is diligent in his interest in the task. In asking the interest and sympathetic aid of the community, he says:

"May the blessing of the Great God be upon us, to prosper us and enable us safely and successfully to accomplish this, to us, great and glorious undertaking, and we ask the loving and active co-operation of at least all the Lutherans of Narberth and vicinity."

TESTIMONIAL DINNER

Charles V. Noel, borough clerk, was among the speakers at the testimonial dinner held Tuesday night in honor of W. A. L. Barker, president of the Lower Merion Township Commissioners.

The banquet, under the auspices of the Republican Club of Lower Merion and Narberth, was held at the General Wayne Inn, Narberth.

The serious part of the dinner consisted in the start of plans for a new bridge over the Schuylkill at West Manayunk, in which the township, county and city authorities will co-operate.

TAX BILLS READY

The Merion Title and Trust Company has received the tax duplicate for county taxes, and the same can be paid at the local office at any time before August 1.

This service is rendered by the local bank as a courtesy, replacing the formerly clumsy system of writing to Norristown to discover the amount owed. The rate is now three mills, having been increased by the new county commissioners from the former rate of two mills.

MRS. FLORENCE M. PRICE

Mrs. Florence M. Price, mother of Mrs. R. D. Thomas, of 9 Woodside avenue, died at her daughter's home on Monday after a long illness. She was 66 years of age.

The funeral and burial were at Pittsburgh, where Mrs. Price formerly made her home.

TIGERS WIN

The Elm Terrace Tigers kept up their reputation Monday night by trimming the Knights of the Golden Eagle, of Philadelphia, by the score of 8-6.

The game was held on the grounds of the Narberth School. The feature of the game was the umpiring of Mr. N. H. ("Pop") Litchfield, who, although a member of the redoubtable Tigers, acted as arbiter in the contest.

He did the job with much fairness—so much, in fact, that his erstwhile teammates were nearly defeated on one or two occasions.

Workmen Hurt

Two of the Workmen engaged in the erection of the stores and apartments at Haverford and Narberth avenues were slightly hurt Tuesday when a big girder collapsed while being set. The more seriously injured of the two, who was badly cut and bruised, was sent to the Bryn Mawr Hospital.

Many Citizens Attend July Council Meeting

Zoning, Street Paving and Community Building Among Important Topics

Council's meeting last Monday evening was the most important and the most largely attended of any regular session that has been held this year. The zoning ordinance, with a few clarifying amendments, was given its final passage, and two new ordinances for the Community Center and Street Improvement bond issues were introduced and given first reading. Interest in the street paving petitions caused an unusually large attendance of spectators, which resulted in holding the session in the larger room at the rear of the fire station.

Many citizens, who attended this meeting to show their interest in the street paving situation, had never previously witnessed a session of Council. For such citizens it was an interesting demonstration of not only the large amount of detail work which the Councilmen are compelled continually to scrutinize and pass upon, but also of the care which they exercise in an endeavor to draw successfully and tactfully the fine line which separates the community interests from the otherwise legitimate rights and desires of the individual. This was particularly illustrated in the instance of Mr. B. G. Constantine's personal protest against the effect of the new zoning ordinance on his property at the corner of Grayling and Haverford avenues.

When the petition for street paving came up for consideration, Councilman Redifer wanted to know whether the petitioners did not desire to have the borough pay for a greater proportion of this improvement than had been done by the borough on similar previous jobs. Mr. Redifer was also of the opinion that it was impossible for Council to ascertain, within the time available, what streets should be paved and the probable cost of doing the work. He further remarked that the petitioners for street paving ought to remember that it now costs three times more to do paving than it did when the borough paved the other streets.

In response to Mr. Redifer's objections, Mr. Robert F. Wood was permitted to speak for the street petitioners. He said that the taxpayers living on unpaved streets did not wish the borough to do anything for them which it had not previously done for other citizens; that the petitioners had gladly left with Council the matter of determining what streets should be paved and the cost thereof because it would be presumptuous for private citizens to seek to make any such determination. Mr. Wood said that the street petitions contained 160 signatures and had been put in principally to indicate to Council the strong desire for street improvement on the part of a large number of voters and taxpayers, but that there was no intention nor desire to dictate to Council concerning details and methods.

Consideration of the street petition was temporarily interrupted at this point in order to take up the community building petition for which Mr. T. Noel Butler was permitted to speak as chairman of the committee of 10. Mr. Butler briefly explained the circumstances which have developed the community building project to its present state. He pointed out that, in his opinion, this project has the support of all of the organizations in the borough and that if the $100,000 bond issue should be granted, the borough would then benefit to the extent of approximately $50,000, which otherwise might not become available for public purposes. Mr. Butler said that as the street issue had been raised at this time, it was his opinion that the two projects should be merged into one bond issue and presented to the voters as one merged referendum on the ballot next November.

Chairman Hall explained to Council the necessary steps which must be taken in connection with the two petitions for bond issue referendum and that three different desire-ordinances had previously been prepared for consideration at this time. Another indication of the manner in which members of Council had made good advance preparation for the questions which it was known would arise at this meeting, was revealed when Councilman Leitch, chairman of Streets and Sewers, introduced an estimate on the cost of paving the unpaved streets of the borough which he had procured recently from Street Commissioner Suplee. This estimate, which covered in detail practically all of the unpaved streets of the borough, totalled about $53,000, but did not provide for all possible contingencies, with the result that it was the opinion that a bond issue of at least $75,000 should be authorized, even though it might not be necessary to expend all of that sum.

The question then arose as to the best manner of presenting the two questions to the people. Two courses were open—to pool the loans and vote on a single issue of $175,000, or to present the questions separately on the ballots.

The problem had received careful consideration at the committee meeting of Council held the previous Wednesday at Elm Hall, at which time, no decision being reached, it was felt best to be prepared with both types of ordinance at the regular meeting.

In the meantime, Borough Solicitor Fletcher W. Stites, who had been present at the committee meeting, turned the question over in his mind while on the boat bound for Vineyard Haven, Mass., where he is spending his vacation. The results of that thought were incorporated into an official letter to President Hall, which letter was read at Monday's meeting.

Mr. Stites felt that to pool these two dissimilar loans on the ballot would result in some confusion, and would present legal difficulties of sufficient magnitude to cause a possible taxpayers' suit should any resident desire to throw a monkey wrench into the machinery. He therefore advised the separate loans.

Council first took up the consideration of a desire-ordinance by which a bond issue of $100,000 for the Community Center and another bond issue of $75,000 for street improvements would have been merged into one proposition for the ballots. This ordinance was defeated. Councilmen Leitch and Henderson voting in favor, and Councilmen Redifer, Brown, Griswold and Hall voting against. Councilman Wentz was absent. Following this vote, two separate desire-ordinances, one for each bond issue proposition, were unanimously accepted and put through first reading. It was then nearly midnight and Council adjourned.

At the close of the meeting the street petitioners who had remained to the end were, on the whole, pleased with the manner in which Council had handled their petitions. Mr. Butler expressed his disappointment that the two bond issues had not been merged into one and said that he thought Council might have followed his recommendations for a merger if the street people had indicated their approval of such a course. Mr. Wood said that the street petitioners had not been unwilling to see the two propositions merged but on the other hand they were satisfied to let them stay separate and therefore were glad to have Council decide the question as seemed to be best to the Councilmen.

In deciding to keep these two propositions separate, Council is sending them to the voters in the clearest and fairest way. The two propositions are really entirely unrelated and it would have been unfair to have deprived the people of Narberth of the opportunity to vote on each one clearly and separately. The sums of money involved are so large that there should be no suggestion of endeavoring to compel the friends of one to vote for the other.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph S. Dunne, of Grayling avenue, have spent the last two weeks at Ocean City, N. J.

WE CHANGE PRINTERS

With this issue, "Our Town" moves into a new shop, which, it is planned, will be our permanent printing home.

For most of the ten years of the paper's life, the printing has been produced in the plant of Lyon & Armbr, located at Seventh and Cherry streets, Philadelphia. They have given us consistently through these years a publication of attractive appearance and careful workmanship.

Our new home is the plant of the Suburban Publishing Company, located at Wayne. The change of printers is the first step in a carefully worked out plan to make "Our Town" a larger and more influential paper, both in size and circulation—to give its readers not only all the news of Narberth, but to keep them in close touch with matters of interest in the surrounding township and county.

The advantages we believe will accrue from this arrangement are three-fold: A more convenient location geographically; a lower cost, making larger issues possible; co-operation with other papers.

The last feature is important. Four independently-owned papers are now under the one roof—"Our Town," the "News of Bala-Cynwyd," "The Main Liner," of Ardmore, and the Wayne "Suburban." Departure from Lyon & Armbr was the cause of real regret to the Editor and other workers on "Our Town." That firm has been to us more than mere printers, and have rendered courtesy and co-operation without end.

During those hectic days when the editing of "Our Town" was sandwiched in between college classes, our printers permitted us to break every rule of schedule and printers' practice. Their good nature and aid are known to dozens who co-operate in the work of "Our Town."

This statement is a short and deserved tribute to a firm of mighty good printers. Mr. Livingston's two papers were mislaid in a job printing plant—and the editor's irregular way of doing things belong to a newspaper plant. Hence the change.

Lyon & Armbr can now resume normal existence, knowing they have the appreciation of a community they have served well.

NARBERTH WINS OPENER

Takes Lead in Main Line League for Second Half Race.

With the veteran Bobby Gibson on the mound for the Walzerettes, Narberth opened up the second half of the League race by beating Oakmont 5-2 on the latter's grounds.

Gibson struck out eleven men and tallied one of the runs. The home team out-hit Narberth seven to five, but could not bunt their safeties.

Features of the game were the hitting of R. Sinclair and the fielding of Murray and Kane. Vernon Fleck led with the stick for Narberth.

Another.

With V. Fleck on the mound, Narberth beat Cullinan's fast K. of C. team, of Ardmore, in a very good game, Monday. The score was 6-5. Each team had plenty of hits: Narberth got 12 off Dougherty, while K. of C. got 10 off of Fleck. Kane stole four bases in two innings, which helped Narberth win when Davis got hold of one in the last inning. O'Donnell allied a double and on Cullinan's overthrow to second he came home.

Again.

Harvey Humphries had no trouble defeating Steadman A. C. in a one-sided game Wednesday with 14 strikeouts to his credit. He allowed but six scattered hits. The score was 11-5. Clark, of Steadman, got the longest hit of the evening—a 3-bagger.

MAIN LINE NOTES

Legion Flays Violence.

The Bullock-Sanderson Post, No. 136, of the American Legion, of Ardmore, held a special meeting on Tuesday for the purpose of adopting resolutions on the shooting of Policemen Roy and Miller Thursday evening, July 3, near the southern end of Holland avenue, Ardmore.

There were 60 members present. A resolution was presented condemning the Ku Klux Klan, but the motion to name the organization failed. A general resolution against violence passed unanimously.

The resolution was framed by Colonel Franklin D'Olier, former national commander of the legion. He attended the meeting for the sole purpose of having the resolutions adopted. Dr. Clifford H. Arnold, who was in the Twenty-eighth division in France, spoke earnestly for the adoption of the resolution.

On Thursday men who had voted against mentioning the Klan by name declared they would have voted otherwise if they had known all the facts concerning the arrest of four members of the Ardmore Klan in connection with the case.

Fly Campaign.

The Fly Campaign conducted by the Main Line Citizens' Association for the past two years, submits the following report to date:

Haverford township: Through the courtesy of the Haverford township schools fly slides were shown to the scholars, and essays written on the extermination of the fly by the pupils of the sixth, seventh and eighth grades throughout the township, prizes being awarded to the following: Sixth grade, Ralf Owen, $5; seventh and eighth grades, Margaret Kraemer, $5, William May, $5. The hearty co-operation of the township school authorities was greatly appreciated by the Village Improvement Committee.

Lower Merion township showed slides in the sixth, seventh and eighth grades throughout the township, but did not have time to write essays on the extermination of the fly.

Radnor township: No response to communication in reference to the offer of the committee.

Old Muslin and Linen.

The Visiting Nurse Service of the Main Line Citizens' Association would be very glad to receive donations of clean old muslin or linen, such as sheets, pillow-cases, towels, tablecloths and napkins. Contributions to be sent to Visiting Nurse Service, 53 West Lancaster avenue, Ardmore.

Plan Big Bond Issue.

The members of the Radnor Township Board of Education will go before the voters at the November election and ask their approval of a bond issue of $450,000. This action was taken at a meeting of the board held last week.

The money asked for will be used, if the bond issue is approved, for the completion of the new building in Wayne, one unit of which is now in use; the remodeling of the old high school, the rearrangement of the school campus and other improvements that have been found necessary in order to bring the Radnor schools up to the standard of efficiency desired by parents having children attending them and by the public-spirited citizens of that section generally.

TO MEET MONDAY

A county-wide "Get-Out-the-Vote" campaign has been started by the Montgomery County League of Women Voters in accordance with the plans of the State League.

Invitations have been sent to the chairmen of twenty-three county or district organizations to attend a luncheon meeting at the Merion Cricket Club, Haverford, on Monday, July 21, at 12.30 P. M.

The Montgomery County League feels in order to obtain efficient and effective results the advice and co-operation of these organizations is necessary in this most patriotic campaign to "Get Out the Vote." This plan will also be carried on down into borough townships.

This concerted action aims to achieve the good government so much desired and to arouse the indifferent voter to his or her importance and responsibility as a citizen.

Miss Gertrude Ely, of Bryn Marw, is chairman of the league and Mrs. C. P. Fowler is the appointed chairman of the "Get-Out-the-Vote" campaign.

THE JAPANESE BEETLE

Efforts by Authorities to Prevent Pest From Spreading.

The Japanese beetle is about due to start its campaign against the foliage and plants of this section, and the United States Department of Agriculture is prepared to combat the pest.

The Japanese beetle will eat almost anything that is green and growing. It has been known to attack at least 212 different species of plants. Among those which it attacks vigorously are the grape, the raspberry, the blackberry, the apple, the sweet cherry, corn, soy bean, red clover, Virginia creeper, rose, althea, hollyhock, the elm, oak, willow, maple and horse chestnut. It also attacks asparagus, sweet potato, lima and string beans, peas, the peach, the plum, the quince, alfalfa, the wild cherry, ferns and numberless other trees and plants.

When the beetle appears, it will be full grown. The single beetles will live about six weeks. They will not all appear in June, but numbers will continue to come out of the ground all through the summer months. One female will lay from 30 to 60 eggs. Beetles from the eggs will not be seen until next summer, but the grubs will carry on their destructive work in the ground. After hatching from the egg, the grub feeds on the roots of grasses, weeds and other small plants until the winter comes. They then bury from 6 to 12 inches below the surface, remain dormant during the winter and come up in the spring to continue feeding on roots. The grubs grow as big as an inch in length.

This beetle has been known in Japan for many years, but has not been a serious menace there. It is believed that the insect is kept under reasonable control in Japan by the action of its natural enemies or by soil, cultural or climatic conditions peculiar to the country, or, as is more probable, by a combination of these several agencies.

These natural enemies and other controlling conditions are not present in the United States. As a result, the beetle has developed in prodigious numbers here and has become a serious menace to the agriculture of this community. As it continues to spread, it will become similarly dangerous in places more and more distant from Riverton.

The United States Department of Agriculture is co-operating with the New Jersey, Pennsylvania, and most recently, the Delaware Departments of Agriculture in an attempt to control and exterminate the beetle. Sprays are being tried for trees and plants and also solutions which soak into the ground to kill the grub. Parasites which are known to be natural enemies of the beetle in its native home are being imported. At least one of these has become established in this country.

The parasites which are being introduced are in no wise dangerous to the production of crops in this country. Perhaps the greatest success has been attained by an emulsion of carbon bisulphide which was allowed to soak into the putting greens at Riverton. It is estimated that this killed from 90 per cent. to 95 per cent. of the grubs underneath the greens.

While the search for something which will exterminate or control the beetle is going on, the Department of Agriculture is trying to delay the spread of the beetle to uninfested territory. Its natural spread by ordinary flight is about eight or ten miles a year. This can hardly be prevented. It is possible for it to be carried as far as 100 or 150 miles in produce, on automobiles, or as a grub in the earth around the roots of plants. To prevent these great jumps a quarantine has been established about the 2500 square miles which are considered infested. No plants or produce are allowed to leave this territory without at least an examination, if not a certificate, depending on the part of the quarantined territory from which they are being brought. No produce or plants are allowed to leave certain portions of the area. By these methods it is hoped to confine the beetle to as small an area as possible until something is found to exterminate or control it. Otherwise the problem will be a much more difficult one when the answer is found.

Health Report.

Only three new cases of contagious disease are reported throughout Lower Merion Township by Health Officer Marvin E. Reynolds.

THE STREET PETITION

Signed By More Than 180 Citizens of the Borough.

The petition for street improvement contained 160 signatures at the time it was turned in at the meeting of the Council last Monday evening. Through some misunderstanding, the people on upper Grayling avenue did not get their copy of the petition in at that time, although they had secured 29 additional signatures making a final total of 189.

As a copy of the original petition was printed in "Our Town" two weeks ago, it should now be explained that there was a misstatement of fact in that petition and it, therefore, was not presented to Council. A slightly different petition, making the same principal request, but eliminating any controversial reference to gutters and curbs, was used and is the one which is now on file with Council.

This change in the petition should be clearly understood by all residents of the borough, both those living on unpaved streets and those who are more fortunate in their residence locations. The original petition would have implied that the petitioners expected the borough to pay for gutters and curbs out of public funds. It is reliably stated that the borough has never paid for gutters and curbs on any street. Therefore, the present petitioners were willing to modify their petition because they do not want nor expect the borough to provide anything more for their streets out of public funds than has previously been provided for other streets.

GORED BY PRIZE BULL

Narberth Herdsman Escapes When Assistant Distracts Animal.

Gored by a prize bull at Penshurst Farms, Narberth, as he was attempting to lead the animal to pasture, Arthur Yonker, a herdsman, was saved from death Sunday, when his assistant leaped to his rescue. Yonker was taken to Bryn Mawr Hospital, where he is suffering from a punctured right lung and several fractured ribs.

Yonker and his assistant, John Barrow, entered the small enclosure where two prize bulls were penned, to lead them to the feeding barn. Barrow took one of the animals out leaving Yonker with the other. As Yonker reached for the bull's nose ring, the animal rushed him, goring him in the side and armpit, tossing him over his flank and crashing him against the barn door where he lay half stunned.

As the bull turned to attack Yonker the second time, Barrow rushed into the enclosure, distracting the bull's attention to himself. The bull turned to Barrow, who leaped over the gate to safety. In the meanwhile Yonker dragged himself inside the stable and fastened the door, where he was found unconscious from loss of blood.

Dr. E. S. Deubler, superintendent, stated yesterday that Yonker was well on the road to recovery. The bull has always been tractable, and its sudden temper is unexpected.

LOCAL STAMPERS WIN

Last Friday evening on the Autocar field at Ardmore, the local Post Office team defeated the Ardmore bankers in a spirited game by the score of 13 to 11. The outstanding features were the perfect fielding of Stewart and the timely slugging of Wally Goodwin, who had two triples and a double. The score:

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Bailey and family have returned to their home on Essex avenue after a two weeks' stay at Ocean City.

A Visitor from Bridgeport.

Mr. Milo Atkinson, connected with the General Electric Company, motored to Narberth last week from Bridgeport, Conn.

Mrs. Atkinson, who is touring with him, is a cousin of Mrs. Elmer L. Stapp and Miss Ella J. Wiley, 220 Wayne avenue, with whom they visited for several days.

This being Mr. Atkinson's first opportunity to secure a good view of Fairmount Park, he was delighted with its beauty and the splendid drives around Narberth and along the Main Line.

After a side trip to Atlantic City, visiting friends and relatives in Camden and Pitman, N. J., the Atkinsons will continue their journey to Washington, D. C.
